GISELLE ZEIGLER: IT'S A SMALL WORLD AFTER ALL!

Have you been wanting to incorporate more world music in your elementary classroom? Take this opportunity to immerse yourself in pedagogical techniques from the Orff World Music Village as well as Smithsonian Folkways' World Music Pedagogy curriculum. Sing, say, dance, and play your way across the globe - no passport needed!

Giselle Ziegler has served as a PK-6 music educator at Webb Elementary in Wethersfield, CT for the past decade. Currently pursuing a sixth year degree at UConn, her professional passions include world music, culturally responsive education, trauma-informed restorative practices, equity-oriented school leadership, and social justice at the elementary level. Above all else, she values the power of travel, food, music, and love. Giselle resides in Southington, CT with her husband and two kitties.
